Arhaus outdoor collections are built to resist the elements and frame your outdoor gathering spaces in comfort and style, but they should also be protected from damage and extreme weather. To protect your outdoor furniture investment, we strongly recommend covering your frames when not in use for an extended period of time. Before covering, furniture needs to be thoroughly cleaned and dried to prevent mildew during storage. Cushions should be removed and stored in a dry place, if possible. Please refer to the Arhaus Care Guide at Arhaus.com/care for details on how to properly care for each product.
